Tentative Cutoff Dates

We will be sending out the Monthly Yoshon.com Newsletter tomorrow morning, but this was received today...

August 17, 2023 – Tentative Dates from Project Chodosh

Just in from the Project Chodosh email list:

“Dear Chodosh Subscribers,

First of all: THANK YOU HASHEM and Thank You Klal Yisroel. who are helping to keep the project alive and make sure all Yidden are able to access essential Yoshon information.

1. FINAL Oats date: Production date of August 29 and a Purchase date of September 15. Please stock up before thenh to avoid problems later on.
2. FINAL Wheat date: Production date of August 19 and a Purchase date of September 1, except for fresh baked goods in the midwest that have a cut off date of August 20.
3. FINAL Barley date: Production date of August 15 and purchase date of August 25.
4. Durum wheat: No code available. All pasta and other products made with durum wheat can be purchased without checking codes.
5. Barley malt is not an issue at all yet and does not need to be checked. Please be aware that there have been changes in barley malt production over the years and the guide is revising its guidance about malt based on the new information. Updates will be issued as soon as they are available.

Clarification: All products can be purchased until the relevant purchase date without checking for Yoshon status. Once that date has passed, Yoshon status of each product needs to be checked. Yoshon codes for many products will be published in the Guide to Chodosh. Mrs. Roskamm”
