Beer and “Cheeze” Updates

December 11, 2023 – Updated Yoshon Beers List

There is now one actual Yoshon Beer from the USA, and it isn't made from Barley Malt. The Direct Download Link is below:

December 11, 2023 – Latest Updated TYNI Product Manual

Issue includes some new products and the Yoshon Beers List. Since it is updated frequently and we have found that people do actually use old links, the link we will be using from now on for the TYNI Product Manual is below:

December 11, 2023 – Daiya Non-Dairy “Cheeze” Now Contains Oats

Many of us love the non-dairy cheese alternative “Daiya”, but a sharp-eyed member of one of our WhatsApp groups discovered they are now all made with oat milk. The company gave us the shelf life information for all their problematic “cheeze” products, and those are now listed on our site.

Their Cheezy Mac still contains no problematic ingredients and is “Yoshon by default”, but the company does have plans to revise its recipe to use oats in the future. Check the ingredients to make sure if it is still yoshon.
