GENERAL YOSHON NEWS

Chodesh Tov!

Although there is no news on products or the upcoming season yet, there have been plenty of developments going on behind the scenes for TYNI since Pesach. It has been a rocky last season, but we hope to have put our troubles behind us so that we can start out with a bright new season, come late July/early August.

Yoshon.com Website News

Although most site visitors may not have noticed since it happened mostly after Pesach, the Yoshon.com site crashed and very nearly did not recover. With more people visiting the site than ever, and the extra traffic putting a strain on the system, our old, overworked web hosting server just could not keep up with the demand of so many new people! But sometimes, change can be a good thing. We had to upgrade to a brand-new server with twice the speed, space and power. BE"H, we should no longer experience any more delays, crashes or database connection errors, as had started to happen at the end of the last season.

Yoshon.com Mobile App News

There is good news for Android users, the updated Yoshon.com Mobile App is now available in the Google Play Store, so all those with newer versions of phones can finally download the app without any error messages. The updated iPhone version is also available in the App Store as well.

Unfortunately the update didn't make it in time before Pesach, but the good news is, all versions of the app will now be available on the app stores for free! We thank all those who purchased the original versions and helped to get it established. You ensured that it was a success!

We look forward to serving the Yoshon-keeping public in the upcoming season, and even better than ever.
